The roof of the Chancel spire has been painted in cerulean blue and adorned with silver stars to symbolize a means of the spires.

The Bernadette (the carved wooden screen behind the altar) is a memorial to the Fallen of the First World War. It is an oak tabletly showing Christ in Glory surrounded by initials, figures of saints and emblems representing the Allies of Great Britain in the First World War together with the countries of the United Kingdom.

The "wings" show shields of the British Commonwealth and Empire.

The Bernadette was designed by W.D. Caroe, FSA and was erected in 1918.

The names of decoration for the sanctuary, chancel and baptistry is the work of Mr. Ernest May, R.A., who is a leading authority on the construction, internal design and decoration of ecclesiastical buildings and is the architect of Guildford Cathedral.

The organ was built by Rushworth and Dreaper of Liverpool in 1974.

Aim within the Nore Memorial Chapel is a copper plaque: a memorial to Robert England Wagner.

The windows were designed and made by Mr. Hugh Easton
